

Island Hideaway - Maldives

Island Hideaway lies among the lush greenery of the privately owned Dhonakulhi in the North Maldives, a crescent shaped island with long white beaches and crystal clear waters. The property, with its clever blend of nature and luxury, offers some of the largest and most lavish accommodation in the Maldives.

With the resort taking up less than five per-cent of the island, the surrounding environment is left virtually untouched. Villas are 20-30 metres apart, offering privacy and peace. They also have private garden areas and beach access, and in some cases, private pools and sundecks.

Accommodation comprises 44 spectacular guest villas in seven different categories. At the top end, Dhonakulhi's two Hideaway Palaces represent the epitome of a uniquely Maldivian luxury experience. Each palace is situated on an expansive 1,420 square metres of land, located on a natural sandbank.

Each villa has its own private butler to attend to all your needs, and there is the Tender Hearts Kid's Club to keep the little ones entertained while you spend your days soaking up the sun beside the infinity pool, being pampered at the Hideaway Spa or sitting back with a sundowner at the beach-fronted Meeru Bar.

With a natural channel right in front of the island, a snorkeling haven is at your doorstep. The Meridis diving school has lessons for all levels and its instructors are experts on the uncharted waters of the Haa Alifu Island.
