

Villa Niloufar - Bali, Indonesia

The name of the splendid five-bedroom property known as Villa Niloufar is taken from the Persian word for lotus, and the luxurious house rests fittingly in blissful seclusion amongst a jungle setting in southwest Bali. This is an extremely private location but still just 30 minutes drive from the trendy Seminyak area and the famous Ku De Ta.

Villa Niloufar is a magnificent property, designed by world-renowned British architect, Gary Fell. Its breathtaking location inspired ingenious features that help minimize the villa's environmental impact yet maximize the available natural resources. Perched on rice terraces over an area of 3,500 square metres, the villa is spread out on different levels, following the natural contours of the land.

Villa Niloufar can accommodate 10 people with two master suites and three luxurious bedrooms all with en suite bathrooms. Fitness and wellbeing are encouraged at this stunning location, with an 18-metre infinity pool, gym room and complete entertainment room with state of the art home cinema set. There's also a relaxation pavilion ideal for massages that overlooks the meandering Buwit river, which carves through the bottom of the property.

Guests at Villa Niloufar have the use of two cars with drivers during their stay, plus two motorbikes, complimentary spa services and discounted rates to various great activities around Bali, including the beautiful Nirwana Golf Course, which is only 10 minutes drive away and is one of Asia's premier golf courses.

The villa's 20 staff members, including butlers, chefs, gardeners, security, spa therapists and villa manager, ensure that your visit is truly unforgettable.
